Fishing for Health

When a man breaks down with that dread disease, consumption, and recognizes his condition, he starts on a quest for health. He tries this thing and that thing. He consults this doctor and that doctor. He indulges in all kinds of absurd athletic exercises. He tries first one climate and then another. He tries the rest cure and the work cure. He grows steadily worse. That is the story of most consumptives. Finally, when the consumptive dies, the doctor shrugs his shoulders and pronounces consumption incurable. A thirty years' test of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has demonstrated that it cures 98 per cent of all cases of consumption, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease, before the lungs are too far wasted. In a consumptive there is a weaker spot than even the lungs. That spot is the stomach. A consumptive never really begins to die until his stomach gives out. The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only braces up the stomach but acts directly on the lungs, healing them and driving out all impurities. Honest medicine dealers will not urge you to take an inferior substitute. "I had a very bad cough, also night sweats and was almost in my grave with consumption," writes Mrs. Clara A. McIntyre, Box 171, Ashland, Middlesex Co., Mass. "A friend of mine who had died with consumption came to me in a dream and told me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and that the Lord I did so. By the time I had taken half of the first bottle I felt much better. I kept on until I had taken three bottles. That was all I needed. I got well and strong again."

One of Nature's Puzzles That is Located in Texas.

About three miles west of Cedar Bayou, Harris county, Tex., is a remarkable well. When it was dug, no one can tell, but it has been in existence for more than 60 years. The well is known as the "singing well."

In calm, fine weather a sound like that of an Aeolian harp comes upward between the tangles of vines below. At times the sound seems nearer and clearer. Then again it recedes, as if far away, and reaches the ear very faintly. These changes take place every few minutes, and with great regularity.

With an east wind blowing the water in the well gets very low and the mysterious musical sound very faint. A strong west wind causes the water to rise and the sound to increase in volume and clearness.

But it is just before a great norther that the old well plays its wildest pranks. Then for several hours the water rises to within a few feet of the top of the well and emits the weirdest, wildest noises that ever reached human ears. At such times even the water drawn out with buckets moans and wails as if in anguish.

The well is about 60 feet deep. A few years ago the land on which it is located was bought by a Mr. Watkins, who, not liking the sounds that came from the well, employed two men to fill it up. They shoveled dirt into the well two weeks, but it did not affect the depth of water perceptibly, and they threw up the contract. From the measurements of the excavations they had made it has been calculated that the well should have been filled up a little more than twice.

The water is very clear, with a bluish tint, and is fairly palatable. No other wells in the neighborhood show such pranks as are played by the "singing well."—Fort Worth (Tex.) Cor. Chicago Inter Ocean.

AMERICAN HUMOR.

An English Comedian Compares It With the British Article.

George Grossmith, comparing American humor with English, says, "A New York gentleman was once chaffing me about my pronunciation of certain words, and I was very much amused at it. So I said to him, 'It's our language, you know. We invented it before you were discovered.' He was a bit abashed at first. Then he said: 'That's so. Well, I think it's about time you learned to speak it.'"

"It is very difficult to score off an American, and you can't play a practical joke on one at all. I've often gone, when I've had a friend with me, into some old city bank, like the Bank of England, for example—staid old place, you know. We've marched up to the counter, and I've said quite calmly to the old gentleman behind it, 'Can't I have a brandy and soda and some sandwiches?' They've always been most polite and taken it seriously, saying, 'We don't keep brandy and soda and sandwiches here.' 'But you have them ordered in from outside.' 'Yes, but that of course is for ourselves,' and so on, all quite gravely and without the suspicion of a smile or the slightest quiver of the muscles of the countenance to indicate a sense that a practical joke was fooling around."

"And in America you would have fared differently?" "Rather. I went once to the state-house in Hartford. There was a man standing at the entrance, an official with a band around his hat, so I stepped up to him and said, 'Can you tell me if this hotel is conducted on the European plan?' He simply looked at me, and calmly said, 'Any more?' Then there was a moment's awkward pause, and I had to walk out."

A Sure Cure.

"I've cured my husband's insomnia." "How did you do it?" "Pretended I was ill, and the doctor left medicine which Henry was to give me every half hour all night long."—Vanity Fair.

MISTAKES OF STEWART AND WALLACE.

From the time that Wm. M. Stewart entered the State, in July last, a continual line of political disaster, because of mismanagement by self-styled leaders in the Silver party, has attended the campaign of 1898. The work of the campaign was laid out for the accomplishment of a particular end, which was the return of W. M. Stewart to the United States Senate. The claims of all bona fide citizens of the State for political recognition were made subordinate to the return of Stewart to the Senate. All political combinations were made to accomplish that end; which combinations were made in such an arbitrary manner that the rights and claims of others were ignored. The people of the State and their wishes were set aside with a readiness and ease that led to a conviction in the minds of observing men that Stewart and his henchmen regarded the people as they might regard cattle to be used at their convenience; and that the people were political pawns to be disposed of at the pleasure of the require, pending a campaign. Upon a seeming conclusion that the people of Nevada are inferior to others, and would, without protest, submit to any use that Stewart and his henchmen should desire to make of them for their political purposes, the campaign was opened. No greater mistake could have been made than upon a campaign under these conditions, as distrust and dissatisfaction became manifest at the beginning, and continued to increase and become more prominent as the plan and object of Stewart was unfolded to the people, and particularly to Silver party men. If there were any doubts in the minds of Silver party men preceding the convention of that party at Reno, that the party was being used in the interest of Stewart, and to the exclusion of the claims of all others who had not been previously assigned to receive nominations from that convention by Stewart and his henchmen, those doubts at Reno were fully removed. When delegates to that convention who were not in the ring became aware that they were creatures in the hands of Wallace, a feeling of distrust became so pronounced on the part of some of the delegates, that they seceded from the convention and others returned to their homes fully determined to close out in the State each political force as the Silver party convention at Reno, and to close for the future, if possible, any interference by men from another State in the politics of Nevada. Notwithstanding the boasted shrewdness of Stewart and Wallace in politics, no greater mistake could have been made than to make by them at the State convention of the Silver party, by making it a tool in their hands to further their designs, by forcing upon an unwilling people a man who is a political or other stimulant in the State, and whose only hope of being returned to the Senate appears to be in the use of revolvers in the hands of desperate men.

EXPANSION OF TERRITORY.

The United States is called on to face a question of Government not in its catalogue. No people or nation on earth has shown such ability to govern as the American people. They begin their education in matters of government early in life, and take to the work with a readiness that belongs only to them. The government of the Philippines, according to our ideas of freedom, will occupy very little time when we get down to the work, and all may feel assured that the government given to the Philippines by the United States will violate no principle of the constitution or cause us to blush in its administration. The rights of man will be held pre-eminently in view in all that is done for the government of the islands, and with that object in view the very best results respecting the future government of our new possessions can be confidently looked for by the people.

COL. JACK WILL DO THE WORK.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the sixth inst. has an article wherein some of the past history of Col. Jack Chinn is given with a freshness that makes it interesting, since it is given out in the article that Col. Jack will make Nevada his shooting headquarters for some time in the near future. It is said Col. Jack procured a revolver while in San Francisco this week of the latest and most approved pattern, for use in Carson upon refractory members of the legislature, or upon others who may object to a return to the United States Senate of Wm. M. Stewart. All mild arguments by the redoubtable Wm. M. being exhausted without any result favorable to his return to the Senate, the more strong and persuasive argument of a six-shooter in the hands of Col. Jack Chinn will be brought into use. Wm. M.'s favorite words are: "I must and will be returned to the Senate."

The Philippine insurgents are now getting on their high heels and refuse to allow American soldiers to land at Iloilo, and threaten battle if an attempt to land is made. Aguinaldo has gone to the island to lead the insurgents in battle against the Americans. Serious trouble is anticipated.

STEWART is a terror to the gold bugs and corporations. That is the reason the Southern Pacific railroad is supporting him.

THIRTEEN THOUSAND PRISONERS.

The United States in its peace treaty with Spain promises to negotiate for the Spanish prisoners now held in captivity by the Philippine insurgents. According to Chief Aguinaldo he now holds as prisoners 11,000 Spanish troops, including superior officers. He has also 1,900 civilians, including several provisional governors and numerous officials. All of these prisoners of war the insurgents now refuse to release without the large indemnity of $20,000,000 first be paid to them.

WEATHER BULLETIN.
(Copyright, 1898, by W. T. Foster.)
ST. JOSEPH, MO., January 8.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 2nd, to 6th, and 7th, to 11th.
The next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about the 12th, cross west of Rockies country by the close of 13th, great central valleys 14th, to 16th eastern states 17th.
Warm wave will cross west of Rockies country about 12th great central valleys 14th, eastern states 16.
Cool wave will cross west of Rockies country about 15th, great central valleys 17th, eastern states 19th.
Temperature of the week ending 8 A. M. January 23th will average about below normal at the Rockies and above west. Precipitation for the same period will average above normal east of the Rockies and below west.
Before the week, following the date of this bulletin, ends a great fall in temperature, a cold wave and blizzard will occur in the northern States and within a few days thereafter a "nor" will go into the southern States with a very considerable force.
My forecast for December temperature was a wonderful success. At Chicago, the place selected to test my work and the most difficult local ty for the world for long range forecasting, the temperature of December followed the forecast lines almost perfectly.
After the middle of January the storm centers will pass south over or just east of the Rockies and then across the southern States, followed by cool or cold waves or northerners and about that time the weather will average cold in the south and warm in the north.

A New Firm.
L. D. Folsom desires to thank his many customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and to announce, that on and after tomorrow he will as sociate with himself Mr. A. W. Cahlan, the firm to be known under the name and style of Folsom & Cahlan. The new firm will carry a selected stock of staple and fancy groceries as well as general merchandise, farming tools and miscellaneous hardware.
Mr. Folsom asks that the same kindly consideration be given the new firm that he has enjoyed from the general public for many years and in return the new firm will endeavor to merit patronage by its superior goods, low prices and prompt attention to business.
Mr. Folsom respectfully requests those who know themselves to be indebted to him to make the earliest possible settlement as the change in firm obliges him to raise money. He will also settle accounts against the old business.
The two gentlemen composing the new firm are well and favorably known in Reno and the surrounding country and their successful business is beyond a doubt.
The JOURNAL congratulates them on the formation of the co-partnership and bespeaks for them a liberal patronage. The ad. of the new firm will appear in the next issue.

Funeral Notice.
The funeral of the late Grace North will take place from the Catholic Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Miss Grace North died of typhoid fever last Friday morning at 7 o'clock. She was aged 18 years, 11 months and 17 days at the time of her death. Many friends and schoolmates will mourn her loss and will attend the funeral to-day. She had been a pupil in the Junior department of the High school, and is reported as having been an excellent student and was loved and esteemed by all who knew her. The pallbearers will be composed of members of her class. The bereaved mother and sisters are about heart-broken over the death of their loved one.

"The Comet."
The JOURNAL is in receipt of The Comet, published by the scholars of the High School. It is a commendable publication and redounds to the credit of the staff of young editors, who have, by their enterprise and energy, placed it before the public. We wish the young people success in their enterprise, as the education they secure by this means will prove of inestimable value to them in future years, should they decide to accept the slow, lingering death that is the inevitable end of Nevada editors.

For a first class meal, cooked in the finest style of the art, go to the Washoe Lunch Counter today. In the way of drinkables anything can be had that is desired, including wine, beer, tea or coffee.

The "Steel Case" Matter
At the last meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, the Office Specialty Co., through their attorney, presented a claim for the sum of $462.30 against the county. This is the original amount paid by the county in the famous case, but the amount was afterward tendered back to the county and accepted by a majority vote of the Board.
Since the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court against them they now try to receive the original $462.30 by renewing their claim. The bill was laid over by the Board.

O. Wright acted as installing officer.
At the same, the ladies of the Relief Corps installed officers for the present year as follows:

Marshall; Chaplain, Mrs. Emily Leonard; Conductor, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans; Assistant Cond., Miss Mary Taylor; Assistant Guard, Mrs. Kline; Color Bearers, Mrs. Dean, Martin, St. George and Lewis.

"Under the Dome."
"Under the Dome" from the pen of Lincoln J. Carter who has composed more successful melodramas than any man now tempting Providence. Witness his "First Man," "Heart of Chicago," "Tornado," "Chattanooga," "Remember the Maine," etc., which comes to McKissick's Opera House next Friday, Jan. 13. "Under the Dome" is said to be his masterpiece, both as to dramatic construction and in a scenic way. Upon two astounding illusions he depends this time for success. One is a marvelously clever production of the terrific hurricane which swept the harbor of Apia, March 15, 1889, and which cost the lives of 144 brave men and wrecked six of the biggest warships of the German and American navies. The first of the Samoan scenes shows the beautiful coral reef harbor outside of Apia and the section of the beach on which the U. S. Consulate stands. The fourth act brings in the storm and shows the Trenton battling with the elements of wind and water in a vain attempt to keep afloat. Another clever stage illusion is the ferry boat trip from Jersey City to New York. Every detail of such a trip is accurately reproduced even to the enlarging lights of the opposite shore as the boat progresses out into the stream. Besides these startling effects, the play is given the aid of some beautiful scenes in and about Washington. The prettiest of these is the Capitol illuminated.

In the case of Lulu King vs. Oscar King, suit for divorce, the divorce was granted. A Peculiar and Painful Accident.
The other day as Henry Rubs, Sr. was working in a barn yard, he accidentally stepped on a rake and the handle flew up, striking him in the face, knocking out three teeth and causing insensibility. He lay unconscious several minutes before being found. The injury is not serious, however.

Church Services.
Sabbath services will be held at all of the churches as usual, to-day and to-morrow.

An Interesting Case.
All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dana's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalatypes small autotypes and lovely porcelain. Just think! Artistic photographs of genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

"Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she could not sleep, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night, and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free.

An Old Missouri Bridge.
There is an old lattice bridge across the North Fabius creek, near Monticello, Lewis county, that was built in the year 1845. It is said that it was the first bridge of the kind built in north Missouri. The timber was taken from government land and was sawed into lumber at a water mill and with whip-saws. The contractors were seven months on the job, for which they received $100. —Kansas City Journal.

An Examiner reporter interviewed, or attempted to interview, Senator Stewart at his wife's residence at Carson last Saturday, the result being published in Sunday morning's edition of that paper. The Senator refused to be questioned, upon the plea that he was neither under oath nor on the witness stand. "Colonel," Quinn who of course was present, was disposed to be more communicative, and notwithstanding the protests of his superior, insisted upon giving the reporter the object of his mission out here in the wilds of Nevada. He gravely asserted that he was sent here by the organizers of the Free Silver party in the East, and in the interest of free silver and the Democratic party. His omission to exhibit credentials from the "Free Silver party" was doubtless an oversight which will be rectified later on. He said he was not sent here in the interest of "anyone in particular," so of course his accompanying Senator Stewart from Chicago, was the result of an accident and his being installed as a guest at the "Stewart Mansion" was only an act of courtesy and hospitality, for which our junior Senator is noted all the world over. The "Colonel" gave us another evidence that he was not here in the interest of Stewart or the Southern Pacific, the fact that he was getting $100 a day salary, which was more than Huntington and Stewart could afford to pay him. This leaves it presumable that the "Free Silver party" in the East can afford to pay the redoubtable Kernol $100 dollars per day to do missionary work in the silver producing State of Nevada, which gave Bryan more than a three-fourths majority two years ago and that it considers it a judicious investment to do so.

But it is sickening to comment upon such contemptible and transparent falsehoods. It is an insult to the intelligence of our readers to allude to them, except as illustrations of the shallow and almost idiotic devices resorted to by the man who seeks to terrorize the Legislature into returning him to the United States Senate. The whole story can be summed up as follows: Stewart bulldozes the Silver Party State Convention into endorsing him as United States Senator. Every dollar that was used in the campaign was expended for the sole benefit of the Stewart Legislative ticket. In every county in the State when a Silver party State candidate could be traded for a legislator it was done, from Governor down to University Regent. It was done right here in Reno and Reinhold Sadler was one of the victims. With all this expenditure of money, treachery and trading, Stewart failed to come within rifle shot of electing enough members to effect his election. After exhausting his purchasing capacity, he still found himself short, and in his desperation the wretched old man has engaged a gang of gun-fighters, murderers, pugilists and thugs to terrorize the legislature into submission to his will.

It is to be hoped on the first day of the session that some member in each House will introduce a resolution requesting Senator Stewart to withdraw his horde of bulldozing invaders from our State. Let a vote upon such a resolution be taken in each branch, then the people will know by what amount of manhood they are represented in the legislature and how much they will have to furnish to save the commonwealth from being dragged into the lowest depths of disgrace and infamy.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

As the time draws nearer for the election of a successor to Senator Stewart by the Legislature, it becomes more and more apparent that the choice will be narrowed down to Newlands and Stewart, with the chances in favor of the former if the opposition to Stewart can be centered on him. The results of the recent election proved beyond a doubt that the people of Nevada desired to rid themselves of the hirelings of the Southern Pacific, and notwithstanding the whole political machinery of the State was in their hands backed by almost unlimited wealth and nearly the entire press of the State, a clear majority of the Legislature was returned against Stewart. They are apparently not satisfied with their crushing defeat, however, and are determined to foist their tool upon us for another six years, and to that end have established headquarters at Carson and imported a gang of thugs and gunfighters to intimidate the Legislature into returning Stewart whether or no.

As between the two men, Stewart and Newlands, there is no comparison to be made. No honest, thinking man will hesitate in declaring that had Newlands come out as an avowed candidate before the conventions he would have carried his legislative ticket in every county in the State. In fact there would have been practically no opposition. As it was, after Stewart's Reno declaration that "the name Democrat was obnoxious to a majority of the people of the State," there was no alternative for the Democracy but to put up tickets in opposition to him. The result proved the accuracy of the venerable bulldozer's political acumen, and now, after being repudiated at the polls he is determined to accomplish by fraud and intimidation what he could not by fair means. His course in the present contest is in perfect keeping with his whole political career. He and his ilk have given Nevada the appellation of the "Rotton Borough," and it is evidently his intention to now give notice to the world that if the corrupt use of money will not alone further debauch the State he desires to misrepresent, his masters stand ready to back him up with a gang of Hessian thugs and bootlers.

The Legislature about to convene has within itself the power to free us from the political thralldom which now oppresses us, and send a man to represent us who is free from all entangling alliances with the corrupt ring who have so long degraded our fair State in the eyes of the Nation. Will they be men enough to rise to the situation, or will they return to their constituent with the brand of traitors on their brows and the price of their shame in their pockets? We shall see.—Times Review.

The Use of Hot Drinks.

Hot drinks have come into wide use during late years among persons afflicted with indigestion. A tepid fluid exerts a marked sedative influence on the gastric mucous membrane and often relieves the painful sensations following the meals of a chronic dyspeptic.

Less recognized perhaps is the influence of hot drinks on the motor functions of the stomach. In the ordinary course of events nothing remains in the stomach six hours after a meal, and the presence of alimentary debris after that period indicates the presence of some degree of muscular paresis. This condition of things may be greatly benefited by the use of hot water with or immediately after meals, but in chronic cases permanent benefit can only be obtained by perseverance, the treatment being methodically carried out for some months.

As might be anticipated, the hot water treatment does not ameliorate the secretory defects in the same degree as the muscular weakness, but by maintaining the stomach in a hygienic condition we may, at any rate, hope to check further degradation of the peptic glands. The temperature of hot drinks should be from 105 to 110 degrees F.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Cause For Bluesness.

The clubman was looking particularly blue, and when asked by his clubmates for the cause, he said:

"This evening, just after dark, as I was coming down to the club, walking along, thinking of nothing in particular, I was hit in the back by what seemed to be a locomotive and knocked sprawling into the gutter. It was maddening there, and when I had collected my scattered senses I was all covered with dirt and also very mad. I looked around to see what hit me and found a young man and a safety bicycle on the pavement, all tangled up. I was mad, as I said before, and, without stopping to think what I did, I took that young man by the coat collar and kicked him off the pavement. Then I jumped on the bicycle, smashed all the spokes out of the wheels and generally disfigured it."

Here the gentleman stopped, and one of his audience said:

"Well, why should that make you feel as you do? You did just the right thing."

"I suppose I hadn't ought to feel so," said the speaker; "but, you see, it was my boy and my bicycle."—Pearson's Weekly

Animal Peculiarities.

A herd of wild Asian buffaloes will charge any foe, even a tiger, to save the life of one of their number who has been wounded. Elephants, baboons and other animals will do the same thing in a wild state.

On the other hand, monkeys have been known to fall upon one of their number who is ill and drown him, possibly as an act of mercy. Similarly wolves destroy one of the pack which becomes helpless.

If an otter is trapped, his brother otter will run around him all night, showing the utmost concern.

A writer in The Spectator states that he has seen sparrows in groups discussing and lamenting when one of their number had fallen into a trap. Next day, when a robin was caught, the sparrows paid no attention.

He adds that he had seen a big pig try to help a smaller one through a hole in the fence piling by pulling at its head.

St. John tells of a highland shepherd whose cat brought him some edible bird nearly every day in the year.

An Impression.

The friends of a local art connoisseur are telling a tiny but fairly good joke at his expense. It seems that he was passing up Baronne street the other day with a lady who had asked him to explain the meaning of the term "impressionist," and he halted before an unfinished building to illustrate his remarks.

"The impressionist school," he said, "deals with effects in mass. Now, when I look at that wall over there I don't see the separate bricks. I merely see—Just then a careless mason on the upper scaffolding dropped a fragment from his pile of material and smashed in the top of the gentleman's new silk hat. He removed the shattered tile and gazed pensively at the wreck. "I merely got an impression of brick," he added, with dignity.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Went Them Several Better.

Fritz Williams, the actor, was sitting one evening in a New York cafe, when two very young men came in. They beckoned condescendingly to a waiter.

"Waiter," said the one, "bring me a chop. Mind it's just right, now. Just mention my name to the cook."

"You may bring me a steak," said the other, just as grandly, "and tell the cook who it's for."

The waiter was half way across the room, which was crowded, when Fritz Williams hailed him.

"Waiter," he drawled, "bring me half a dozen Blue Points, and mention my name to every damned oyster."—Exchange.

Mythological Comparisons.

In the course of the conversation, which turned on mythology, the chancellor said he could never endure Apollo, who flayed Marsyas out of conceit and envy and slew the children of Niobe for similar reasons. "He is the genuine type of a Frenchman, one who cannot bear that another should play the flute better than or as well as himself."—"Rienard's Memoirs." by H. H. H.

Important to Working Men.

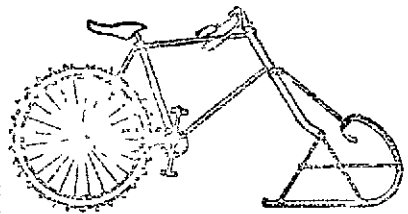

I have just received a complete and large stock of gent's furnishing goods, overalls, underwear, socks, gloves, neckties, collars, cuffs, etc., direct from the factory. Also the celebrated Bull Britches and Levi Straus overalls in all sizes, which I am selling at prices that defy competition. I have a large assortment of fine all wool blankets, buggy robes, saddle blankets and quilts. Board of City Council.

The Board of City Council met pursuant to adjournment last evening all members present. The minutes of the last meeting was read and approved after which the old Board retired and the new members took their seats.

The new Council organized by unanimously electing R. S. Osburn, President.

The order made at the last meeting for the removal of the Standard Oil Company's oil warehouse, was renewed and passed without objection.

H. P. Brown was elected superintendent of streets and sewers.

President Osburn then appointed the following committees:

On Water, Fire and Light—Messrs. Mighels, Noyes and Osburn.

On Streets, Alleys and Sewers—Messrs. Ryland, Roff and Mighels.

On Police and Police Regulations—Messrs. Roff, Noyes and Mighels.

On Ordinance and Revision of Ordinance—Messrs. Noyes, Roff and Ryland.

On Finance and Revenue—Messrs. Osburn, Noyes and Mighels.

Estimate of receipts for 1899, $9,470.

Mr. Noyes was given a vote of thanks for the very complete financial report he had furnished.

Councilman Noyes gave notice that he would, at the next regular meeting, move to rescind the order in relation to J. N. Evans removing certain obstructions in a public street and would move to give Mr. Evans five days to carry out the orders of the Board or place the matter in the hands of the City Marshal.

Assessor Evans was authorized to secure a plat book of the town of Reno, the city's proportion of the cost not to exceed $27.50.

A petition to repair the sidewalk on the alleyway, on the east side of Virginia street, between Second and Commercial Row, was read, and under the rule laid over.

"Under the Dome"

It is a curious fact often noted by writers on theatrical topics, and close observers of matters thespian that actors and actresses as a rule sigh for a line of parts absolutely unfitted for them and chafe painfully under the hard necessity of accepting the roles which all the world but themselves believe they are best fitted for. The history of the stage is full of incidents in which an actor has been forced into a part of which he bitterly complained, and made his everlasting reputation. A case in point is that of the elder Southern and the part of Lord Don dreary. A comedian always wants to play a more serious line of parts; a soubrette almost always believing that her real part is leading business, and so it goes. It is rarely, however, that an author loses confidence in his play. The average author, until he has acquired recognition, must live entirely off his never-failing supply of self-confidence. Singularly enough Lincoln J. Carter, author and owner of "Under the Dome," which comes to McKissick's Opera House, on Friday, January 13th, had almost no faith in it before it was produced and stood ready to shelve it at once. It has proven by all odds to be the greatest success he has ever scored and is said to be not only a magnificent production scenically, but to be a wonderfully cleverly written and highly interesting play.

Fight for Once.

Our esteemed neighbor, the Gazette has got off on its right foot for once. It doubtless had reference to the scenes which are likely to occur this winter at Carson where a horde of hired fighters will be on hand to assist our legislators in the selection of a United States Senator. As a Gazette novelty the JOURNAL cheerfully produces the following from last Saturday evening's editorial.

"United States Senators should be elected by the people, and not by State legislators. The scenes enacted in many State Capitals when a United States Senator is to be made are a disgrace to the Republic, and the most potent means of lowering the standard of politics, which is already low enough."

Hon. Evan Williams left here yesterday evening for San Francisco.

A. C. Cleveland came in yesterday and left for Carson on the local.

Many students returning to the University after vacation came in on the V. & T. last night.

Geo. Murphy, capitalist, was in Reno Sunday. He is investigating some of Nevada's mines.

H. Fournier, Supt. Air Brake Department of the S. P. R. R., was in Reno last Sunday.

It seems that Khalifa intended to "kill the English dogs." He did it in the same way that Weyler exterminated the Yankee pigs.

Those meals served at the Washoe Lunch Counter are excellent. Go there to-day and eat your dinner and you will get your money's worth.

That man who shot nine practical jokes because one of them had induced him to sit down upon a tack, rather overdid the business. We believe the punishment should fit the crime. Eight would have been enough.

Why don't our farmers keep more bees? Nevada honey is the best in the market and it is a wonder that more people do not engage in this sweet and gentle industry. Bees are the only kind of stock that a man's neighbors will pasture for him without charge. There is something sylvan and delightful, too, in making honey and money at the same time from flowers.

Six O'clock Movement.

We, the undersigned, do solemnly declare and agree to close our respective establishments at 6 o'clock P. M. every day, Saturday excepted. This agreement to go into effect Monday, January 15th, and continue until December 16, 1899, inclusive; and we further agree not to transact any business after that hour. (Signed):

Proviso by S. Emerich: It is agreed if after the 1st of May, the majority of the signers of this agreement find that early closing is detrimental to their business, this agreement is null and void.

Revival Meetings.

Last night Rev. G. H. Jones continued the series of revival meetings at the M. E. church. He preached a most earnest sermon from the text, "Come, for All Things Are Now Ready." At the close of his burning exhortation the altar was filled with persons seeking salvation and many professed conversion.

The meetings continue to increase in power and fervor. Mr. Jones will preach every evening this week except Saturday evening and cordially invites everyone to attend.

Nevada's Songstress Honored.

Miss Mabel Stanaway, who has been in Boston for some time having her wonderful voice cultivated, has accepted a position in the choir of the First Baptist church at Danvers, Mass. As the church is the largest and most imposing in the city, the fact that Miss Stanaway has been engaged by it, pays a high tribute to her talent. Her many friends here will be pleased to learn of her success.

Dr. Stubbs Will Leave Reno.

Since the attack of inflammatory rheumatism that he contracted in the east, the able educator's health has been in a poor condition. As soon as he can get away from the duties attendant upon registration, he will take a trip to California and try the curative effect of her mineral springs. The Doctor is looking quite broken down physically and it is to be hoped that he will return to us as hale and hearty as of yore.

Lieutenant Brambilla Here.

Lieut. Robert Brambilla, U. S. A., arrived here from San Francisco Sunday morning. He is on a furlough and comes to Reno to recuperate from the severe illness he suffered while in San Francisco. He will remain in Nevada for several weeks and then rejoin his company, which is now at Manila. "Toby" was warmly welcomed by his many Reno friends.

District Court.

The case of Philipina Hoffman vs. Becker Brewing Co. for rent and possession was taken up yesterday but not concluded. It will be continued at 8 P. M. to-day.

The case of Thomas vs. Blaisdell will be opened to-day.

A Prospective Wedding.

Lieut. Frakes and Mr. Cole will be married at the Salvation Army Barracks next Wednesday evening. The wedding will be public and ten cents charged for admission; refreshments 15 cents.

Ensign Lines is expected to be here in time to perform the ceremony. In case he does not arrive the Rev. Hudson of the Baptist church will officiate.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalatypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

How To Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at S. J. Hodekinson's Drug Store. 50 cents per bottle.

An Enterprising Druggist.

There are few men more wide awake and enterprising than S. J. Hodekinson who spares no pains to secure the best of everything in his line for his money customers. He now has the valuable agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. This is the wonderful remedy that is producing such a furor all over the country by its many startling cures. It absolutely cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all affection of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Call at above drug store and get a trial bottle free or a regular size for 50 cent and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

State Central Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Silver Party State Central Committee will be held at Carson City on Thursday, January 12th, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of considering the possible contest in the gubernatorial election and contests of legislative seats. Matters of interest to the Silver party organization will be presented. A full attendance of the committee is requested.

An Old Missouri Bridge.

There is an old lattice bridge across
the North Fabius creek, near Monticello, Lewis county, that was built in the year 1845. It is said that it was the first bridge of the kind built in north Missouri. The timber was taken from government land and was sawed into lumber at a water mill and with whip-saws. The contractors were seven months on the job, for which they received $100.—Kansas City Journal.

The German Posh Bah.

"I don't know that there is much use of my keeping my school open more than a month or two each year," said the German pedagogue.

"Why is that?"
"Our emperor has simplified matters to such an extent that when you ask the name of the world's greatest poet, painter, musician, general, traveler or monarch there is only one answer to all the questions."—Washington Star.

Among Other Things.

"So you've lost your new servant already?" remarked a lady sympathetically to a neighbor.

"Yes."
"What time did she go?"
"I really can't tell," was the reply
"she took my watch with her."—Rosa-leiz.
